Funded by the Cariboo Regional Districts A,B,C,I Fund, the Quesnel Skyfest Society received $3600 towards storage facilities. At the annual Gala on April 11, Sustaining Partner Tracey Roberts from the Quesnel Cariboo Observer presented the cheque to Skyfest volunteer Barb Van Halderen.

Quesnel SkyFest Society is a registered non-profit society whose mandate is to promote, organize, stage and accomplish a truly international airshow at Quesnel, British Columbia, on a recurring basis. Additionally, they promote, foster, encourage and develop interest in aviation and all its branches within the Cariboo and beyond. Skyfest seeks to create aviation related opportunities and events that encourage and build a lively community spirit in Quesnel and the surrounding area.

This airshow will create awareness in the community and in the region of the important role that an airport plays in communities. It showcases the Quesnel Regional Airport and demonstrates the possibilities and opportunities that exist because of this community asset. The 2015 show will be the third large event that the Quesnel SkyFest Society has hosted. SkyFest 2015 will cement the airshow as a major destination event in the BC interior.
